

Maze Application Frequently Asked Questions

I am interested in a corn maze, but I do not know where to start. Do I need to fill out an application before I can even talk to your staff?

Absolutely not! Our application process is a next step in the process of creating a maze, but not the first step. We are happy to share with you information about our company, how we work, and how you can create a corn maze for your farm. Please feel free to contact us with questions about the entire maze process. You can call our office at (608) 352-0175 or email sales@cornmazesamerica.com.

Why do I have to fill out an application just to be a customer?

With our equipment, staff, and resources, we are limited to how many customers we can serve with our very seasonal business. We love to work with both startups and established businesses. Since our business revolves around a seasonal process, preplanning is key. Applications help us determine where to best allocate our resources. Our current customers get first priority each year, and then we open our services to new customers who have applied.

What if I am not sure if I want to work with Corn Mazes America, or if I will even make a corn maze this year?

If you have at least some level of interest, please fill out an application. This will help us stay in touch with you during your decision process. By applying early you help improve your chances of being approved.

If I am approved, do I have to work with Corn Mazes America?

Absolutely not. Your application is not a contract and is not binding. It simply helps us get an idea of what your needs will be. If we offer you a spot as a customer farm, you will still have the option to do whatever you like.

How soon will I know if I have been approved?

Our 2011 customers have until January 10, 2012 to make their decisions for 2011. Our customers have a very high return rate, but occasionally some customers no longer need our services for a variety of reasons. We will fill these spots as they become available. We know you also need to continue moving with your own planning, so feel free to contact us at any time with questions about your application.

What happens if there is not a spot for me after I apply?

After you apply, we will stay in touch with you on a regular basis. Our ultimate goal is to work with you in the form that is best for your farm. If cutting services will not be practical, we still may be able to do a design or provide other assistance. Please note that most farms that do not need cutting services are almost always approved.

Why again do I have to apply to be a customer?

We receive lots of requests for information and prices each year. We are always happy to provide basic information to an initial inquiry. However, most of these requesters never follow up with us. Sometimes farms request information in January, but then we do not hear from them until May when it is too late for the year. By taking a few minutes to fill out an application, you show us that you respect our time enough to fill out some information about your needs. In return, we will happily invest our time to help you feel as comfortable as possible with the decision process of creating a corn maze beyond an initial inquiry.

Do you only work with the 'big guys'? How do you actually help startups?

We are farmers who started with a three-quarter acre corn maze. We really believe in helping startups be successful, although we also work with some of the largest agritourism operations. We wrote and sell two books to help beginners be successful with corn mazes and agritourism because we want to help farms. If you want an opinion straight from the source, you can find a list of our current customers online at www.cornmazesamerica.com/our_mazes.htm.
