

2012 Member Farm Application-Corn Mazes America

Since 2004 we have worked with many farms to create successful corn mazes. For the first time in 2010 we approached near the maximum number of farms we could service with our current staff and resources. As we look towards our future growth, we do not want to lose the quality of service that we provide to our customers both returning and new. Our current customers have found wide success with their mazes, and we want to continue this with future customers.

In order to become a customer with Corn Mazes America (CMA), we are implementing an application process for adding new customers in 2012. We will take a variety of factors into account such as our returning customers, applicant's location, and applicant's available resources. We are happy to talk with all applicants before and after completion of an application. As we begin to receive word from our 2011 customers about their needs for our services in 2012, we will begin to add new customers.

Please answer all questions as completely as possible, and do not assume any type of answer will hurt or help your application. Many of our customers have had little knowledge of corn mazes or agritourism before working with us. We are still dedicated to helping all sizes of farms be successful. By submitting an application, this will also give us the opportunity to contact you and help you get started. Please also note that if you are looking for us to simply design your maze and you will cut it yourself, there is a very high chance that your application will be approved very quickly. For more information, see our 'Maze Application Frequently Asked Questions' flyer.

This application is not a contract and does not lock you into any services. If your application is approved, you will then be given the option to become a member farm for 2012.
